Championships: (Please provide dates):

Denine won a variety of first's, seconds, and thirds at Central Ontario Competitions during the years of 1969 and 1971. Her personal best was in 1970 when she qualified for Provincials. She placed 4th in the Junior Silver Free skate placing her shy of necessary points to move onto Canadian level competition.

During her coaching years with the Baltimore Club, had a number of skaters that qualified to compete at the All Ontario championship. Between 1998 and 2006 the club had 7 skaters compete and represent the Baltimore Figure Skating Club. The skater that Denine was directly associated with was Gordon Wegg 2006 placed 4th at Provincials. Skate Canada in those days would acknowledge both skater and coach for their involvement and participation in All Ontario by giving them a coat that was only given at this event. Like the green blazer at the Masters golf tournament.

Skate Ontario acknowledges coaches that continue with their learning on an annual basis. Skate Canada several years ago stopped the coaching of "figures" and introduced "skills" Denine attended several courses to become certified to teach the new "skills" to skaters. As skaters learn the skills, they were tested and pass, Denine received credit for completing the training of the skills patterns and coached skaters to be successful in this new area of skating. Megan Anderson and Tanys Rostetter-Saunders were 2 of her skaters that completed all the levels of skills and were successful in achieving Gold achievement.

Individual Awards/Citations: (Please provide dates):

Denine received many recognitions from Skate Canada for athletic achievements. First achievement being in 1964 for Dutch Waltz Preliminary Dance test until 1971 where during that time she passed an additional 20 dance tests to include Junior & Senior Bronze dances as well as Junior and Senior Silver dances. She successfully achieved 4 gold dances in her early 30's, (1984) while she was coaching. (National certifications- see attached). Besides personally passing all of these Skate Canada dances to achieve Gold status, she was also successful with Free skate. Between 1968 and 1971 she passed the Skate Canada Preliminary, Junior Bronze, Senior Bronze and Junior Silver Free skate test. (National Awards)

Each year, the skating clubs would have an annual Skating show "Carnival". Denine's first solo was at Cobourg Figure Skating Club at the age of 9. The other skating clubs that Denine skated at (Belleville and Oshawa) would also have annual skating shows and she would participate in group choreographed numbers as well as skate as a featured soloist, age 13-16yrs

Banff School of the Fine Arts (for advanced training in figure skating)
Baltimore Figure Skating Club

If possible, please provide a summary/description of any other additional information that would describe the nominee's outstanding contribution to sport.

Denine started skating at the age of 7 but by the age of 12 she was skating 7 days a week. Her home club was Cobourg but she also skated with the Belleville and Oshawa Skating Clubs. When skating in Belleville, her coaches would pick her up after school. Coming home from Belleville, they would pull over on the side of the 401 bridge on Gully Rd. in Grafton, which was near her family home, and she would hike up the hill onto the bridge where her Mom would be waiting to pick her up. This rigorous training routine continued for her until she was in grade 12.

Denine did everything she could to maximize her ability as a figure skater. She went to a skating school in Toronto (East York Skate Club). Every Friday to Sunday her mother would drive her there and then pick her up. It was an 8 week session in each of Spring and Fall. In July-August, 1968, she attended Summer Skating School in Brantford where she boarded for the summer. In the summer of 1969 she attended the Banff School of Fine Arts, where one of her Toronto Club coaches taught. She took many classes that helped her improve her skills, such as ballet and more.

During her skating career, as an athlete, Denine passed a whopping 24 Skate Canada dance tests and 4 free skate tests. (see attached).

In 1973, Denine graduated from gr 13. She started working for Colborne Lumber Co. (for her father), and with Cobourg YMCA coaching gymnastics on Saturdays. She was still skating but not as rigorous of a training schedule as when she was in school. She got hired by the Cobourg Figure Skating Club to coach. She ended up having to quit coaching gymnastics because she got so busy with skating. In 1976, she left her father's company to work full time for the YMCA. She coached figure skating after work and weekends, in the wintertime. She worked at YMCA until 1978, when she got married. In September 1979 she was hired by school board (clerical).

In 1975, Denine was approached by parents in the Baltimore area to solicit her help in getting their own figure skating club up and running. She spearheaded communications with Skate

Canada to get sanctioning for the club. They received temporary sanction for 1 year (as was the procedure at the time) and then were given full sanction in 1976, and the Baltimore Figure Skating Club was born! Denine was VERY instrumental in the process and has been a steadfast volunteer in the organization ever since. She continues to spend countless hours each year spearheading this local organization.

As a coach, Denine has received 67 certifications! All of these in order to become a better coach and maximize her knowledge and expertise in the sport, which has had a direct impact on her students.

There is no doubt that Denine Page's local involvement in figure skating over the last 58 years has had a huge impact on our sporting community.

Coach celebrates 30 years of teaching skaters

BALTIMORE—Having fun and working with young people has kept Denine Page on the ice at the Baltimore Figure Skating Club for 30 years, as long as the Baltimore Figure Skating Club has been in existence.

As skating club members prepare for the 30th annual Carnival and Reception Show on March 3, Ms. Page took a few minutes recently to reminisce about her years on the ice.

"I was a member of the Calverton Figure Skating Club when I was six years old and went to competitions and was a competitive skater," says the 52-year-old. "I was in the rink every day and my mom was tracking me to Calverton or Beltsville twice a week to get more ice time for practice."

By Grades 11 and 12 Ms. Page wanted to try gymnastics and track and field, giving skating a rest for a time. When a member of the Calverton club's executive asked if she would be interested in teaching, the answer was a very emphatic yes, she said.

Ms. Page offers a tour of the Baltimore rink skating with the original pad of ice. Before 1989 the ice rink was housed in a machine-shed-like to a barn, she says. "They used hoses to flood the surface and there were ducks with shoals who closed the ice."

Following the recent addition of a second ice pad and a large community hall to the original building, there is more ice time for skaters and hockey players to enjoy their favorite winter pastime and with a giggle, she says, "The rink can have showers now so they aren't so sticky after playing hockey."

The skating season runs from October to March for most of the young skaters, with practices two or three times each week.

Boys and girls aged four and five can enter the Junior Canadian program each fall.

"When they first come, they stand out from the ice and we have to stand them up and hold them; then like you do when your children were learning to walk," Ms. Page says with a laugh. "Now think you'll never straighten up again, then they start to move a lot. It's so cute to see them. We think they're never going to get past the blue line, but by December they're skating all the way to the end of the rink."

Ms. Page has been team coaching with Anne Lathamer for 18 years, using their training and skills as they share their love of skating with dozens of young people. "These girls are great to work with and we have fun," Ms. Page says.

During a recent weekend of skating competitions in Millbrook, a woman approached Ms. Page and asked if she remembered teaching her to skate 30 years ago.

"Oh, kind of," Ms. Page told her, but with between 30 and 75 young skaters in the programs each year for 30 years, she can be forgiven for not remembering every face.

Skaters who have left the area to attend university will drop in for a visit and a skate when they are home for holidays. Ms. Page says she hopes to have some of the oldest skaters participate in the 30th annual carnival.

The March 3 carnival and reunion, with shows at 4:30 p.m. and 7 p.m., will feature skater Chris Mahow who placed second at the Canadian Nationals in Halifax recently and who will participate in the World Skating Championships in Tokyo, Japan.

"We can have big name people come here to skate now and have waiting for the public," Ms. Page said. "Before we barely had space for all the skaters; now lots of people come for the public to come and watch."

Also featured for the two shows will be nine-year-old Mackenzie Best, and Genna Mahow, 12, a dance pair who earned second place in national competitions in Denver this year. They are members of the Scarborough Figure Skating Club.

"I've made 40 calls in past members of the club's executive trying to find people and gather old pictures that we'll have on display for the carnival," Ms. Page says.

Following the 7:30 p.m. show there will be a reception with food, drinks and displays for people to look at and enjoy in the lobby.

Even though she is an old hand at preparing skaters for the end of the season skating carnival, she admits she's always surprised at how well it comes together.

"The last three full hour practices of the year are focused on the carnival, the fourth practice is a dress rehearsal and the fifth time is the first show," she said. "We teach the little ones a routine set to music and they go out and do it. It's just amazing how it all comes together."

A large group of volunteers gives their time each year to facilitate and do the many jobs necessary to keep the skating program running smoothly.

"We all work together and have fun," Ms. Page said. "Every person is a key piece in making things work. The reward is taking the kids to a competition and seeing them come off the ice with a big smile on their face because they've succeeded. That's what it's all about."

On Saturday, Feb. 3, the Baltimore Figure Skating Club hosts Skaters with the Courage at the Baltimore Arena, on Community College Road. With minimum collected pledges of $20, children aged five or eight can skate with the Calverton hockey players and get their autographs from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. From 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m., children aged 9 and older have will have a chance to skate with the junior A team. The more money collected in pledges, the more skaters participants will have in draws for autograph sessions and hockey sticks. Money raised will help pay for trophy cases in the lobby.

Baltimore club celebrates 30 years on the leading edge

By Jeff Gard

cds@sports@northumberlandtoday.com

Thirty years could have come and gone and seemingly nothing had changed for the Baltimore Figure Skating Club.

Of course, in three decades, countless skaters have honed their skills with the club. Many others have donated their time in various capacities. That has never altered from year to year. For everyone involved since its inception, the club has been about fun, learning and memories.

Even though the club was started in 1977, it wasn't until recently that it went through its biggest transformation, and it was a good one. The change came in the form of the new Baltimore Recreation Centre, which opened last year.

"The greatest change is this new arena. Having this new facility means we can go bigger," said Denine Page, a coach with the club since the beginning.

With the new ice pad, Page says, the club can apply to Skate Canada for larger competitions, some that require larger ice surfaces and dressing room space. It might also give the club an opportunity for the club to host a spring school after the season ends later this month so that skaters don't have to travel elsewhere.

"We're hoping more doors will open with the new arena," she said.

Tomorrow the doors will be open to the public for Baltimore Live, a carnival to celebrate the club's 30th anniversary at the Recreation Centre. Former skaters, coaches and executive members are especially encouraged to attend.

Two ice shows, at 1 and 7 p.m. on Saturday, will feature several performances from guest skaters including Chris Mabey, who placed second at the Canadian Figure Skating Championships in Halifax last month, as well as current and former skaters with the Baltimore club.

Baltimore's own Lindsay Basinger will return home to perform and the club will also welcome the dance team of Garrett MacKeen and Mackenzie Bent, who began skating together in 2004 and competed at the 2006/07 EOS Sectionals where they captured the gold medal at the Pre-Juvenile Level.

Cost of admission per show is $10. Children under six will be admitted free.

In between the shows, there will be an open house in the Recreation Centre's banquet hall to reunite those former members who were involved in all facets of the club.

While the club is excited about the new facility, that doesn't mean the original ice pad was a hindrance to the club. In addition to having just as much fun, a number of skaters went on to compete at the provincial level.

"Ninety per cent of the skaters that went to the all-Ontarios skated in that arena," Page said.

At the beginning, a group of local community-minded parents wanting to have skating lessons in Baltimore, rather than travel elsewhere, started the club. Page says she received a phone call from Sandy Jones, who would be the first president of the club, for assistance in contacting the Canadian Figure Skating Association to get a stamp of approval.

In the fall of 1977, the arena manager at the time, Nell Cane, sat down with representatives from the skating club and local minor hockey association to establish a schedule that would see figure skaters have ice on Monday and Wednesday evenings.

His commitment never wavered. In the early '90s, he helped the club lobby for a music room in the original pad. Before it was constructed, they had to rely on a portable boom box.

"(Nell) was the guy who made sure his staff looked after everything. He was always there to lend encouragement for the skaters as well," said Anita Lachance, a former skater who now coaches alongside Page.

Cane, like many times before, will act as master of ceremonies for tomorrow's carnival. He's excited for the club that he grew very fond of despite being a hockey and fastball enthusiast all his life.

"Whatever was going on, I always wanted to help out. Denine is top-notch with those kids.

"They must be living it up for this weekend," Cane said.

Seventy-two skaters are currently members of the club, ranging in age from four to 18, plus two regular adult members.

Lachance also credits her former coach and feels privileged to work with her now. Page, she suggests, is a key reason why she has stayed involved with the club all these years and why children of former skaters now come through the organization.

"(Denine) is loyal. I got that from her as well," Lachance said. "She's always been the type of person to bring the fun out of it, on-ice and off-ice. But we make sure they don't go into anything not knowing what's expected of them."

"It would be really good to see a lot of people come back and reminisce," she said.
